OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

TRAFFIC SIGNALS play an important part in keeping traffic flowing properly in this day and age of clogged roads.

But, as we have noted before in this column, a traffic signal is not the panacea of evils that exist at intersections.

We are in complete sympathy with those who use Rincon and Winchester daily or who live on any of the side streets between Campbell and Budd.

Getting onto or crossing Winchester can be murder at times.

We know. We have been in that predicament and with our notorious short temper we were really smarting by the time we got a break in traffic.

Frustrating is hardly the word for it. We don't think we even used "frustrating". There were a couple of others we thought more appropriate at the time.

WE ARE PLEASED that the City Council recently agreed to earmark $20,000 in next year's budget for synchronized traffic signals on all the side streets from Campbell to Budd.

But it wasn't a complete "go signal" by the councilmen.

It was more of an amber color rather than a full green.

If other intersections are found more critical than the Winchester group, a number of councilmen indicated they would not hesitate to do the worst ones first. Or until the dough ran out.

That seems to be fair enough.

As it was pointed out, getting onto Campbell Ave. is no easy job at times either. In fact Bill Wren's report on the situation indicated that there were nine intersections in town that could be classified as "critical" right now.

SYNCHRONIZATION of the whole Winchester bit makes sense to us. Even those people who felt that Winchester-Rincon deserved special treatment right now conceded that it would be better to have four lights on Winchester, even if it meant waiting until after July 1 to get 'em.

There just isn't enough money to do all the things that need to be done, Councilman Homer Hyde pointed out. (It would cost $70,000 Wren estimated, for example, to signalize all the intersections that needed it.)

There is no good answer to any of these traffic problems.

We agree emphatically, however, with Ted Regas, who maintains that it is more important to assist the local traffic than it is to make it easier for through traffic to rush through.

TED HAS PUSHED for the signal at Winchester-Rincon for a long time, and he took the floor the other night to take exception to Drive-in movie makes new move

A public hearing on the application for a use permit that would allow a drive-in theater on a 14-acre parcel at the Campbell city limits, but in county territory, will be held on Feb. 16 at 1:30 p.m.

The hearing will be conducted by the County Planning Commission in the county offices in San Jose. Campbell city officials have served notice that they will protest the issuance of the use permit.

The outdoor movie is proposed to go on the Andrew Scorsur property located adjacent to the freeway (Highway 17) off Union Ave. with access to McGlincey Lane.

It is approximately one-half mile from the Bascom-Campbell site which also was proposed for a drive-in theater but was denied by the Campbell Planning Commission. At the last hearing on that request hundreds of residents in the area jammed the council chambers to protest a drive-in theater at that location.

The drive-in proposed for the Scorsur property would be operated by Syufy Enterprises, the same firm conducted the Winchester Drive-In off Camden until displaced by the route for the San Tomas Expressway.

Although the parcel in question is in county territory, it is within Campbell's sphere of influence which has been recognized by other city and county agencies.

The area is now zoned M-1 (light manufacturing) in the county. Under the county zoning a drive-in theater is allowed with a use permit.

In the equivalent zoning in Campbell a drive-in theater is prohibited.

For that basic reason the City of Campbell plans to protest the issuance of a use permit by the county which would allow the motor movie.

Originally the theater people had requested that an additional seven-acre parcel to the north be zoned M-1 also. This request was denied by the County Planning Commission, based on Campbell's protest that such zoning did not coincide with the plans for the development of the McGlincey area. The seven-acres were planned for residential use.

City of Campbell officials have maintained that, although the 14-acre parcel proposed for a theater is not within the city limits, the access streets that will serve it are all within this city's borders creating a traffic problem.

City of Campbell spokesmen also point out that the same arguments that were used by residents regarding the use of residential streets in protesting the theater at Bascom-Campbell could also apply in this case.

Creek park gets commission okay

Development of the 10-acre tract on Los Gatos Creek at Camden Ave. as the first step of lakepark setup in conjunction with the percolation ponds along the creek has received the green light from County Parks Commission.

If the supervisors approve the proposed plans, the 10-acres which will be purchased by the county from the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District, will be developed into picnic sites, parking and boating ramps and will be linked with the 90-acres of adjoining man-made lakes owned by the district.

It is estimated that it will cost about $30,000 to develop the 10-acres and half of this amount could be obtained from the federal government.

DOROTHY TREVETHAN --city clerk

VELMA OLDS --city treasurer

City clerk Trevethan files for fourth term

City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan, the first person employed by the city when it was incorporated in 1952, filed this week for reelection to the office she has held for almost 14 years.

Appointed originally to the position after Viola Krug, elected city clerk at the time of incorporation, had resigned. Mrs. Trevethan was elected to full four terms in 1954, 1958 and 1962. In the previous elections the veteran city clerk had no opposition.

Filing also for reelection this week was City Treasurer Velma Olds, who defeated the late Ed Merrill for the office in 1958 and was re-elected in 1962.

If Mrs. Olds, the wife of the Rev. C.R. Olds, retired minister of the Campbell Congregational Church, is re-elected she will also receive a raise in salary, as an ordinance is now before the City Council increasing the part-time treasurer's pay to $100 per month.

The original salary was $30 per month which was later increased to the present $75 stipend.

The city election will be held on April 12 when, in addition to the city clerk and treasurer, two councilmen will be elected. Filing deadline for the city offices is Thursday, Feb. 17.

City Council members will also decide at their meeting on Feb. 14 whether to place on the ballot the question of whether the citizens of Campbell desire fluoridation of the water.

Council members emphatically explain that they will not take any stand on the matter but because of the hearings now being held by the Public Utilities Commission, the reaction of the citizens to the controversial question is deemed important.

In the City Council race, both incumbents, Ralph Doetsch and Homer Hyde, filed their nomination papers this week for reelection.

Doetsch made history in 1962 when he was elected to the City Council on a write-in campaign and received the highest number of votes in the election. That was the first time that had occurred in Campbell's history and one of the few times it had happened in any municipal election in the state.

Hyde was appointed to the City Council in December last year after Bob McElroy elected in 1962, had resigned because he had moved from the city.

Hyde was a member of the Planning Commission at the time, having served on that body for more than ten years, longer than any other person in this

Citizens petition to keep old route as city begins area study

By George Vierhus

A straight line may be the shortest distance between two points but this does not mean, necessarily, that it is the best way to travel the San Tomas Aquino Road.

At least that seems to be the feeling of more than 800 residents of the San Tomas area and the City Council who are concerned over the future routing of San Tomas Road from Rincon Ave. south to Pollard.

A study by city personnel, directed by the City Council, is now underway to determine the cost and the feasibility and other factors involved in the future improvement of the present San Tomas Road or whether a new route should be followed

BASIC QUESTION

The basic question seems to be whether the present routing of the road should remain and be improved or should the "straight line" method which has been considered in the past be the plan to follow in any future development.

In the meantime, a petition bearing approximately 823 signatures of residents and business people in the San Tomas area, has been submitted to the City Council, requesting that the "present, familiar and traditional location of San Tomas Road, a portion of one of the oldest roads in the county," be retained.

The petitioners urge that the present road be widened to better accommodate the present and anticipated future increase in traffic flow through the area.

COMPLICATIONS

There are many complications and "road blocks" in the situation, no matter what plan is eventually approved.

And, at the present time, nothing is firm, city officials maintain, and that is why the entire area is being studied from every aspect under the direction of Bill Wren, acting director of public works and Dick Hogan, planning director.

When their study is completed, a better idea of the cost and other less tangible features will be ascertained.

In the meantime, City Manager Bob Stephens has cautioned the people in the San Tomas area not to be alarmed, for the City Council will have a full report on the matter before any new action is taken.

Stephens said that the report will indicate what effect either the old route or the "straight line" plan will have on shopping centers, schools, and residences in the area plus, the big factor, of how much the whole bit is going to cost... either way.

The future of San Tomas Road (from Rincon Ave. south) is not a new issue which makes it that much more involved.

STRAIGHT LINE

In fact, the "straight line" route which would take off at Rincon, hook up to Harriett, extend that street to Abbott and then end at Pollard, has resulted in one

Unprecedented appeal

In an unprecedented action, as far as the City of Campbell is concerned, a councilman has requested that a ruling of the Planning Commission be appealed.

In effect this means that the ruling will be reviewed and then acted upon by the City Council on Monday, Feb. 14.

Councilman Ed Rogers did not appeal the ruling as a councilman but as a private citizen. Under the ordinance any citizen has this right.

The issue concerns the approval by the Planning Commission for two huge signs, each 8-feet x 66-feet, that are to go on the old Clark's Drugs building at Harrison and Campbell avenues, American Auto Supply, now across the street, plans to move into the larger quarters.

The point that Councilman Rogers raises (and it was also raised at the Planning Commission hearing) is that the signs will definitely change the architectural aspect of the downtown area. The signs are really more than signs... They actually redesign the building.

So it all hinges on whether the change is for the better or for the worse.

We have no idea about that except our opinion which we hesitate in this case to express.

We grant that we have stuck our nose into many fields that we did not understand completely.

But this newspaper quite frankly has shied away from ever attempting to set any architectural or esthetic pattern or style. We are convinced that in most cases it is strictly a matter of individual taste.

As we have said on a number of occasions, there are many people we know who do not like spinach. But there are others who like the stuff. It, too, is a matter of taste.

It was interesting, for example, to hear what two architects had to say about the signs at the Planning Commission hearing. Both architects present maintained that the proposed signs would detract from the attractiveness of the downtown area...in their opinion.

One of the architects emphasized that he favored old or rustic styles. But there you go again. That was his opinion.

On the other hand there were many present at the meeting who advocated that a radical change in the so-called styling of the downtown area was necessary.

They claimed that the rustic pattern had not been carried out to a great extent and thus the modernization (if that is what it can be called) created by the new signs would be beneficial.

We believe that Dr. Rogers is sincere in his "appeal". He has been concerned for the six years he has served as a councilman with the "image" that is being presented by the downtown area.

As he pointed out, the City has expended funds in the past for various surveys affecting the downtown area and will expend more in the future in its development.

The City, he adds, is cooperating with property owners in the formation of an off-street parking district and Campbell Ave. will definitely be improved whether or not the parking district is formed.

The councilman maintains, (and he, in our opinion, is absolutely right) that the city has a stake in the downtown area and thus must be cognizant of what is going to take place there.

We think the councilman's interest is commendable, although the question may be raised by some as to whether the Planning Commission's authority is being restricted in this case.

The action approving the sign was, after all, taken by an official city advisory body, the Planning Commission.

There are only relatively few instances where the Planning Commission's action is final and their actions are always subject to appeal.

But we believe in this case that there is nothing wrong in having the City Council review the action, for unlike the average sign that goes on buildings, these particular signs will affect the entire area.

There will be a danger, however, that the review before the Council will develop into an animated pro and con discussion of what is an esthetic design for a building. Or what isn't.

As we have said, a strong case can be built on either side of this issue.

We think.

We assure you, however, that we are not qualified to pass any judgment in this department. We just don't know what those signs will do to our downtown area as far as looks are concerned.

But we imagine there are many of you who have some strong ideas on the subject.

We have a hunch that at the hearing on the appeal on Feb. 14, these ideas will be expounded and expanded.

some of the points that Bill Wren had brought out in the traffic signal report.

Ted, a long-time banker in town, sounded at times more like a Perry Mason in his cross-examining of Wren.

City Attorney Joe Bonacina apparently reached the same conclusion and suggested that Ted should not "badger" Bill.

There was no personal animosity involved. Ted is traditionally aggressive when he believes strongly in an issue.

We see nothing wrong with such a trait, even when at times we have disagreed with the arguments presented.

Anyway we informed Ted that we would label him "Ted the Badger" or "Ted (Badger) Regas". He said he wouldn't mind. which brings to mind that Myron Hawk preceded Bill Wren as city engineer. We can recall times also when Myron was "badgered".

Now you see what we are getting at.

A HAWK, a WREN and a BADGER.

BOB STEPHENS, city manager, by the way, made a recommendation on the traffic light problem that was really a "stop-go" signal.

Bob suggested first that funds be committed (as they were) in next year's budget.

But, he added, that, if the Council decided to declare the installation of a traffic signal at Winchester-Rincon an emergency, a resolution should be passed authorizing $8000 from the unallocated reserve for the job.

And there was where the signal went red. He couldn't recommend such actions, the city manager explained.

The unallocated reserve did not have that much money in it at this time.

THOSE HUGE SIGNS for American Auto Supply to go on the old Clark's Drugs building which were approved by the Planning Commission face another hurdle before they will be installed.

Councilman Ed Rogers, acting as a private citizen and not as a councilman, has appealed the Planning Commission's decision. Any citizen has this right.

Now the matter will come before the Council on Feb. 14. Rogers maintains that the signs (each 8-feet x 66-feet) will so radically change the downtown architectural aspect that the City Council should be involved.

THERE IS NO question but those two signs are going to change things.

The question, of course, is will the change be bad?

Thayer Lyons, long-time planning commissioner, during the lengthy discussion on the signs made a comment that deserves chewing on.

In reference to the image of Campbell which would or would not be spoiled by the huge signs, Thayer simply wanted to know what the Campbell image was that everyone was talking about.

Next question.

section on Harriett being planned to allow for an eventual 90-foot wide street.

The "straight line" route has caused concern in school circles.

If Abbott, for example, is made a part of this route (to hook onto the extension of Harriett) it means that this busy thoroughfare scoots right by the San Tomas School, a situation that no one wants, the city, school or parents.

And no matter what route is eventually chosen for the southern portion from San Tomas Creek to Pollard, there is still another factor involved that concerns that section between the creek and Rincon Ave.

ORCHARD LINE

Most of this area is taken up by a 30-acre orchard operated by Pete Cefalu. The ranch is county territory at present. Because of the infamous "Cherry Lane" annexation of San Jose some years ago, it will go into San Jose and not Campbell, if its jurisdictional status is changed.

No matter whether the "straight line" or the old route is the final answer, the orchard will be involved.

City officials explain that should the old route be determined as the way to go, then to make for better traffic flow, a wide sweep of the road is needed through the orchard to hook onto the present San Tomas Road at the creek near Hazelwood. This would eliminate the jigs and jogs that must be traversed now.

But this "sweep," city officials caution, does not have to come until the orchard, if ever, is developed into something else. And, of course, it would involve the county, San Jose and any future subdivider.

There are even still more complications that must be ironed out before any go sign can be given future plans for the road.

One of the main worries is what width should be established for either the "straight line" route or the old route.

WIDENED TO WHAT?

In their petition, the 800 residents merely suggest that the present road be widened. They do not specify whether it should be 60-feet or 90-feet. But the city has to know.

If the present San Tomas route is widened to 90-feet this would be an extremely costly venture, for it would mean that many homes on that route would be in the way.

But a 90-foot street generally means it is a major thoroughfare (such as Pollard and Campbell Ave.) without any on-street parking.

But a 60-foot width street, city officials point out, would be a vast improvement over the present road which in many spots now has less than 20-feet of pavement.

But whatever happens, City Manager Stephens has assured all those interested, that adequate surveys, studies, plans and hearings will be scheduled so that all residents in the area will be able to keep informed on any development.

The city is looking for the answers, Stephens said, but right now there are only questions.

BIG GUNS

The 16-inch guns of battleships used during World War II, fired projectiles weighing 2700 pounds each.

Armed robbery at Speedee Mart

An armed robber accosted the clerk at the Speedee Mart at 75 N. San Tomas Road on Saturday night, Jan. 29, and threatened him with a gun until he emptied the cash register.

Clerk Robert Brill told Campbell Police the suspect called to him from the rear of the store, and asked "Where are your cigarettes?" Brill answered "They are up here." The suspect, then asked for a package of cigarettes and a bag. According to Brill, he then pulled a small automatic gun from his pants pocket and advised him to empty the cash register and put the money in the bag.

The suspect, wearing a brown baseball cap and a green "Ike" jacket was approximately 25 years of age, tall and slender. According to Brill and several witnesses, he appeared to be in a dazed condition and "glassy eyed."

The exact amount of money taken is unknown. Police are investigating.

Thieves enter Rock Shop

Richard Bicker, owner of the Campbell Rock Shop, 412 E. Campbell Ave., reported to Campbell Police that thieves ransacked his office and stole $67 in bills, ten rolls of nickels and 12 rolls of pennies on Jan. 27.

According to investigating officers, entry was made through the roof. Also taken was a jade ring valued at $60, a gold ring and a number of Hermitite Intaglio stones.

The plan, which makes specific assignments on the site at Fruitvale and Allendale avenues of each of the major building groups, was approved following a series of board meetings and work sessions by trustees, administration, faculty and outside educational advisors.

The master utilization plan is necessary, according to Architect John Reid of San Francisco.

The workshop planned for Saturday will be for both teachers already involved, and for new teachers who might be interested in learning how to participate in this very rewarding work. Anyone wishing more information may call Mrs. H. Oldenkamp, 354-8135.

laws of life

Most of us are looking for something to go by — a yardstick, a set of standards, a law — something that will give direction to life. Ultimately, we find our only sure standard in the laws of divine Love. You're invited to hear a one-hour public lecture on this subject by Martin Broones, member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. Red Cross urges local volunteers

The San Jose chapter of the American Red Cross is urgently in need of more volunteers from the Campbell area. Since the organization has moved into its new headquarters at 333 McKendrie Street in San Jose, a stronger, more effective volunteer service is planned.

Basic Red Cross orientation classes are being offered for those interested on Wednesday, Feb. 9 from 9:30 to 12:30 p.m. at the chapter house.

The American Red Cross provides a myriad of services in case of emergency or disaster. They provide service to families who are in need because of a home fire. They assist servicemen and their families in many areas, including counseling in personal and family problems, reporting and communications service and also assistance in applying for government benefits and financial assistance.

The Red Cross is building a new modern blood program and volunteer workers are also needed in that department.

The Junior Red Cross program in the schools is the link between the mother and the school children. The Motor Service Division provides transportation for service people and their dependents to hospitals. The blind are taken out on special events. Agnew's patients are taken out once a week for recreation. The needs for this service will grow through the volunteer recruitment program now underway.

The production department is staffed by a group of dedicated ladies who provide layettes for servicemen's families. All types of clothing are readied for persons who are victims of disasters. Veterans hospitals receive clothing and bed clothing from this department.

A phone call to 292-6242 will give you all the information you need to become a volunteer Red Cross worker. Why not do it today?

BUC BANTER

BY MARY KNOWLES

In addition to LARRY McCOMMAS and the others involved directly with the acting and production of "Camelot", there are the people who stand behind the scenes as unsung heros, who should but rarely do get any real credit for their work. First, there is the stage manager, Roger Volk who can be seen running around hectically or sawing madly as he carries out the duties of getting everything done by opening night.

Gerri Phillips, head of props, spends many hours backstage in addition to buying and borrowing props for use in the musical. Aside from hanging from a boom to screw in lightbulbs, Jim Chernoff, director of lighting, also spends hours on end changing lights, positioning spotlights, and practicing light cues.

The Arts and Crafts classes have been working since the beginning of the year making chain mail for armor, and making such things as shields for the knights.

Others to be thanked for the work they have done thus far are: Bill Barnes, Larry Douglas, Will Merriel, Kim Bullian, Clay Seals, Bill Cole, John Bellizzi, Jim Lizer, Jerry Cornforth, Allen Thompson, Mike Nelson, John Murray, and Steve Zeck.

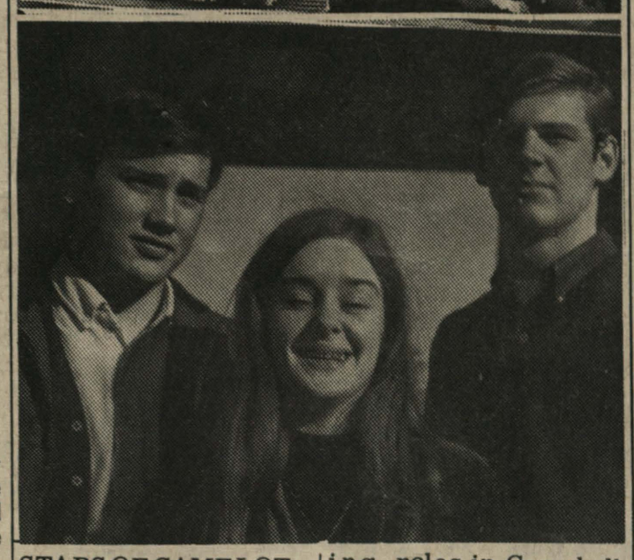
Denny Plog, a senior at Campbell, recently went to a convention held at Cal Poly in San Luis Obispo. Chosen for his grades and his interest in Cal Poly, Denny was one of 25 high school students in attendance.

Denny was sponsored by the president of the Santa Clara County chapter of the California Association of Refrigeration Service and Engineering Society to attend their convention.

This Friday and Saturday nights Campbell's Concert Band will present its annual Pops Concert. The band under the direction of William Perkins, will play such favorites as "The Overture from Porgy and Bess", and "The King and I". The band will also play "The Flower Song", from Carmen, "La Roquina", a bristling march, and "Valdres", a Norwegian song.

Along with the band, the Flag Girls, Majorettes, and Pirettes will perform. The Pirettes will dance to "Goldfinger" as played by the Saints. The majorettes will dance to "The Girl from Ipanema", and the Flag Girls will perform to "Camelot".

The show will begin at 8 p.m. on both nights. Tickets can be purchased from band members and at the door. Prices are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. All are urged to attend as the Pops Concert is one of the highlights of the school year.



STARS OF CAMELOT— Walter Ritter, Gwen Davis and Mark Ebner (left to right) have leading roles in Campbell High School's production of "Camelot" to be presented on March 11-12, 18 and 19.

WARRIOR WAYS

BY LYNDA WYCKOFF

LAST WEEK WESTMONT'S Deb Club held the long advertized Deb Ball. Debs from all over the district attended. The Ball featured the well known "Beas" for the band and a lovely theme of "Night Tide."

Student Council members have been elected to fill the three vacancies. They are, Toni Angus, Rick Barline, and Greg Wiles.

The new ASB president for the second semester is Roger Pearson.

In the past election 1011 people voted in the primary and only 887 in the final election out of a student body of 1758 students.

The Sophomore class had the highest percentage of voters with the Seniors next and the Juniors and Freshmen following behind.

Senior Karen Jemison is to be this years editor of the Myrid, Westmont's literary magazine, contributed to and edited by the students.

WARRIOR OF THE WEEK
ROGER PEARSON

"Rog" Pearson is an 18 year old Senior and newly elected president of the ASB of Westmont High. Born in Dallas, Oregon, Roger has lived in California for some time now.

Rog plans on a music major in college and hopes to go to San Jose State.

Roger plays the sax in a fast rising group called the "Sound of Soul" that opened at the new teenage night club "Mad" on Sunday, Jan. 30, with two shows. The group will be featured every Sunday.

Roger also likes sports and has played a little of each. Among his favorites are: baseball, football, track, wrestling, and basketball.

After graduation Roger is planning a trip to Oklahoma and Texas to visit relatives. He would also like to see "...all those far off places everyone wants to see."

When asked what his duties were as Student Body President, Rog replied, "I preside over the meetings and try to bring the students and faculty, the clubs and commissions together."

BLACKFORD BEAT

BY DIANE GIPSON CAROL COOK

Blackford's first semester of the '65 - '66 school year was officially closed on Jan. 28.

With the close of the semester, so came the spring semester elections. BENSON KANEMOTO is the new student body president for the coming semester. ELLEN ROEMELLE, RICH MANFRE and SELENE SELTZER make up the new student council.

Class elections will be held next week. Those who are running for office should start campaigning now.

The annual Pops Concert was held Saturday of last week at 8 p.m. in the Blackford cafetorium.

Tuesday was the occasion for another big varsity triumph. Our Braves stomped the Campbell Bucs into the ground with a 65-27 victory. However the Bucs' frosh/soph team came back to win with a close score of 32-31 over our frosh/soph.

Friday evening the Camden Cougars defeated our frosh/soph team with a 33-20 score. In the following game, our varsity Braves showed their great speed and dexterity as they trampled the varsity Cougars with a 52-31 score.

This Friday evening after the game against the Westmont Warriors on our home court, there will be a dance in the Blackford cafetorium. Everyone, come to the game, wear white, show your spirit, and have fun at the dance!

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

Q. I was 72 in May 1965. I earned $1900 in 1965, and was told that even though I earned over $1200, I would not need to report my earnings, since I was over age 72 part of the year.

A. After age 72, you are entitled to a social security check for every month, no matter how much you earn. However, your earnings in the entire year that you reach 72 are counted in figuring what benefits can be paid to you for months before your 72nd birthday. YOU MUST FILE AN ANNUAL REPORT of your earnings with the Social Security Administration on or before April 15, 1966. This report is necessary to determine if you were entitled to payments from January through April, 1965.

Q. Recently, I received an application card for enrollment in the supplementary medical insurance program. At this time I am undecided. How long do I have to make up my mind?

A. For those people 65 before 1966 to become eligible for medical benefits in July 1966, they must enroll no later than March 31, 1966.

Q. I am over 65, but have never applied for social security payments because I work and earn to much to be paid benefits. Do I have to file a claim to be eligible for hospital benefits?

A. Yes. The amount of your earnings will not affect your eligibility for hospital insurance, but you must file an application.

Q. My daughter was receiving a monthly check on her deceased father's social security record until she reached 18. She married last year, but is now going to college. Can she re-qualify as a child?

A. No. In addition to being under age 22 and attending school full-time, she must also be unmarried.

Q. My mother is 81 and worked one year under social security. Is there a chance she might qualify for benefits now?

A. Yes. Have her file a claim immediately. Under the new law, certain persons 72 or over may qualify for benefits with fewer quarters of coverage than were previously required.

Peace Corps to test in S. J.

Social Security urges sign-ups for medicare

The Social Security Administration has mailed out over a million reminder letters to social security beneficiaries who have not signed up for the supplementary medical insurance part of Medicare.

Medicare kits, including an enrollment card for the medical insurance plan, were sent during the fall to the 15-1/2 million social security and railroad retirement beneficiaries 65 or over.

About two-thirds of these people have sent back their cards, and 90 percent have checked "Yes" for medical insurance under Medicare.

"In Santa Clara County," John J. Cassidy, Social Security District Manager in San Jose, said, "32,000 people received Medicare kits and enrollment cards last fall. As of the first week in January, 22,000 had signed up for the supplementary medical insurance plan.

"For people now 65 or over," Cassidy emphasized, "there is a deadline for signing up for the supplementary medical insurance plan. If your coverage is to begin as soon as the Medicare program goes into effect, you have to be enrolled by March 31, 1966.

"The medical insurance program, like the basic hospital insurance plan, will go into effect beginning July 1.

The Social Security Office in San Jose is located at 1010 The Alameda and is open weekdays 8:30 to 4:30 and Saturdays 8:30 to 12:30.

Floyd Dominy will address local engineers

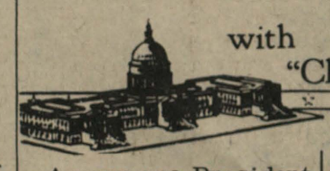
Engineers are completing plans for observance of National Engineers Week, Feb. 20 - 26, including a banquet in San Jose and an engineering scholarship contest, it is announced by Burton W. Long of 1142 Longfellow Ave., Campbell, engineer with FMC Corporation.

Floyd E. Dominy, Reclamation Commissioner, will make the banquet speech. His topic will be 'Reclamation Around the World' -- comments on his recent international inspection tour.

Campbell district's high schools, along with others in the county, are invited to submit nominations for the scholarship. Entries close Feb. 7.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser



A year ago President Johnson submitted a budget for $99.7 billion for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1966. The accompanying flurry of publicity hailed his accomplishment at keeping the budget under $100 billion as almost a fiscal miracle.

A year later at the half-way mark in the fiscal year, the record shows that the President has asked for--and received--$119 billion. And with five months still to go in the fiscal year, he is asking for another $12.5 billion in supplemental defense appropriations.

Thus, the $99.7 billion budget has blossomed into $131 billion!

Recently Mr. Johnson submitted another budget of $112.8 billion for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1966.

After last year's experience and with the total lack of candor the President has displayed in telling the people what Vietnam will really cost, many of us feel justified in asking the question, "Is this more of the fiscal sleight of hand, financial deception and hocus-pocus which the President gave us last year?"

Budget manipulation is particularly bad in the Department of Defense. Secretary McNamara claimed "savings" of $4.6 billion last year. But when the figures are closely examined it is often found that they are no more than cutbacks in the procurement of necessary items which must be bought later at increased cost and with delayed delivery to our fighting men.

A good example is the multi-million dollar "saving" from cutting back on the purchase of vitally needed aircraft for Europe.

Last June 17 we charged that defense expenditures for 1966 were underestimated by at least $5 billion. Secretary McNamara replied that our spokesman "didn't know what he was talking about." Yet in seven months he has had to ask for an additional $14 billion.

Everyone hopes for an end to bloodshed in Vietnam and the terrible cost of waging war. But because of the time required to order and get delivery of weapons, Pentagon planners must assume the worst. We all know they are planning far greater expenditures than they are confiding in the American people.

We know that for more than eight months the President and Secretary McNamara have made frantic efforts to conceal the real escalation of costs in Vietnam. First it was $1.7 billion in supplemental requests; now it is $12.3 billion. And it will more than likely total closer to $25 billion before 1966 is ended!

Though not so serious, there are other examples of financial legerdemain in the President's "nearly balanced" budget he presented last month. Some of the revenues he claims will bring his budget to a "mere" deficit of $1.8 billion are not only subject to accounting suspicion, but are downright misleading.

For example, he has taken the ingredients of a penny, stamped it with the face of a quarter and claimed a $1 billion increase in revenue.

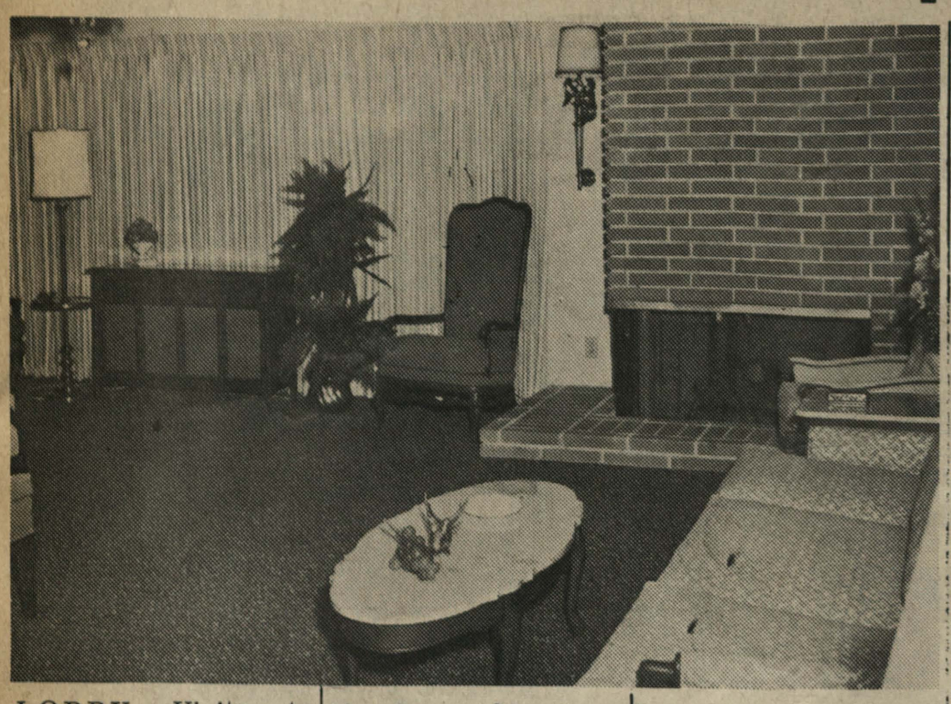
"New" Eldercare Hospital holds open house on Sunday



LOBBY--Visitors to Eldercare Hospital may greet patients in the home-like atmosphere of this lobby which is decorated in beautiful shades of gold and brown.

New rest home is 'home away from home'

The public is invited to visit the Eldercare Convalescent Hospital on Sunday afternoon, Feb 6, at 238 Virginia Avenue and meet Marie and Bill Ross who operate this new rest home for the aged. The Rosses have gone "all out" to make the environment comfortable and homelike, while providing the latest and most modern accomodation available.

The building is situated on 6900 square feet and accomodates 25 patients. Michael Cahn, M. D., is the resident physician. There are Registered Nurses, Licensed Vocational Nurses and Nurses Aides on duty. A group of "Candy Stripers" have also formed an organization to entertain the residents.

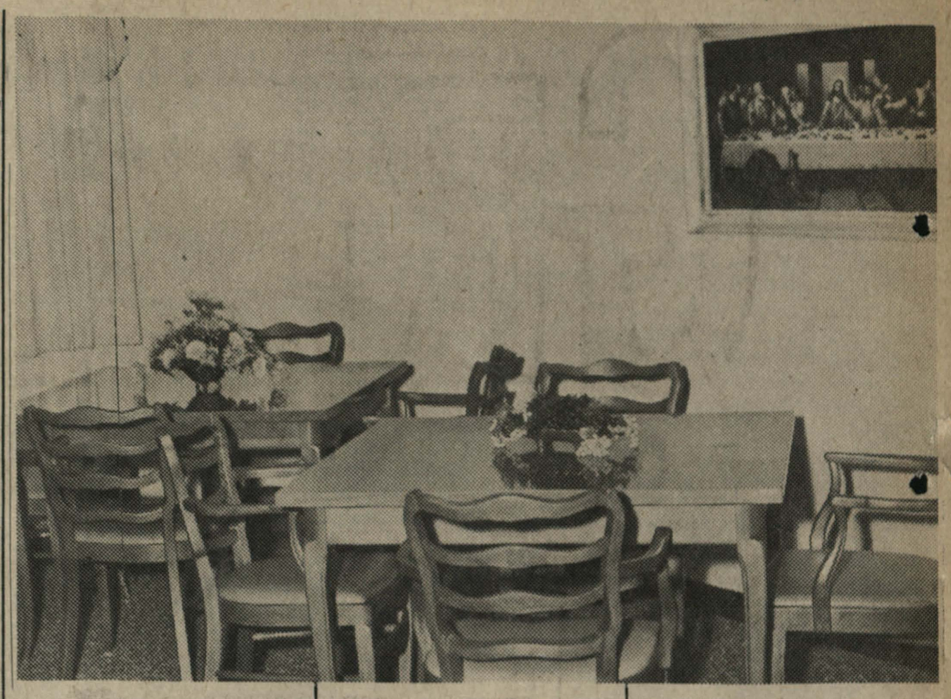
Most of the patients feel they have found a "home away from home" in this new convalescent hospital, which features a beautiful sitting room furnished in the traditional style with upholstered couches and chairs and tweed carpeting. There is a beautiful piano, a brick fireplace and a stereophonic radio-phonograph. Here patients can visit with guests or each other in a truly home-like setting.

There is also a separate TV and game room. New services recently added are the Jacuzzi Hydra-pump and the arts and crafts for recreational therapy Non-denominational church services, held in the sitting room every Sunday afternoon, are also a new feature.

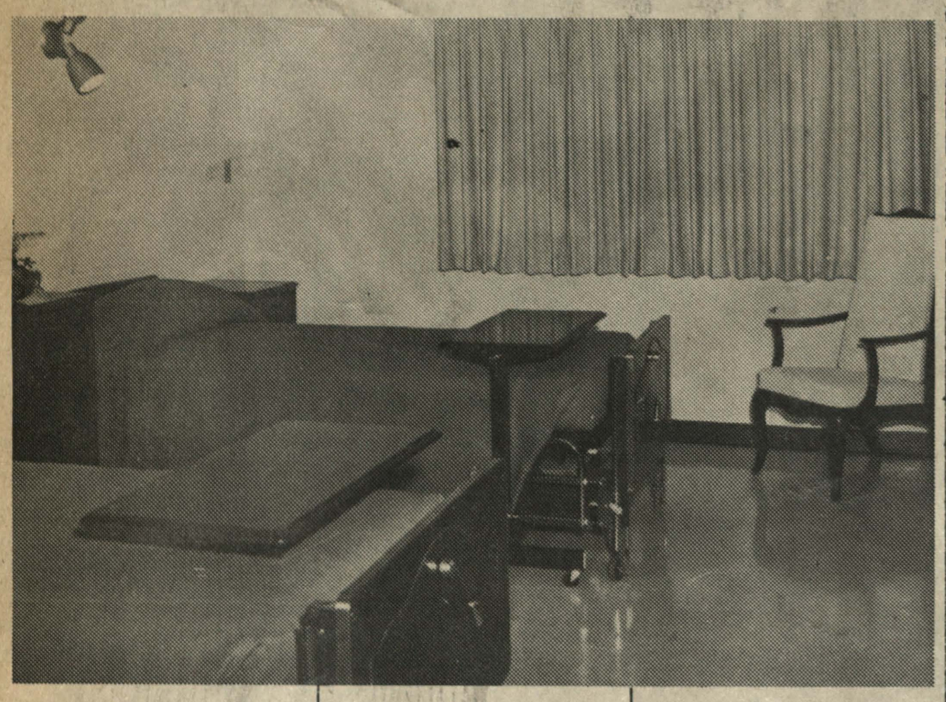
The patients especially appreciate the hand rails on the walls which provide extra security. As soon as weather permits, a garden will be planted and a patio added to the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross are former residents where they had previous background in nursing homes. They have two married daughters and a granddaughter.

Eldercare Convalescent Hospital accepts both private and county patients. It is one of Campbell's newest and most modern establishments and the public is invited to drop in on Sunday and "take a look."



DINING ROOM--Patients may enjoy their meals in this attractive setting if they are able to get about. Guests may also eat here and visit with patients. All menus are planned with nutrituion first in mind as well as being tasteful and attractive.



COMFORTABLE BEDROOMS--Elderly patients receive nursing care in these attractive bedrooms which feature muted colors and soft lighting.

NURSES' STATION--Doctor's orders and prescriptions are handled here at the Nurses' Station where elderly patients receive immediate attention and understanding care.

BankAmericard sales increase

BankAmericard sales in California jumped 29 per cent in 1965 to set new gross sales records of $185,900,000 for the year, it has been announced by Bank of America.

In addition, the increase of $41,500,000 over last year's total of $144,400,000 is the largest in the card's six-year history, said Kenneth V. Larkin, vice president in charge of instalment credit and BankAmericard activities.

The number of businesses honoring the card increased 12 per cent during the year, from 40,000 in 1964 to 45,000 in 1965, he said. Since many of these businesses have multiple locations, there are now approximately 50,000 outlets honoring the card in California. Cardholders total more than 1,250,000 in the state, he said, and the card may be used at 154 different categories of business and professional establishments.

BankAmericard, Larkin said, is the largest bank credit card in the nation.

During the year, the card raised its cash advance maximum, enabling card holders to obtain up to $350 in cash by presenting their cards at branches of Bank of America, instead of the previous maximum of $250. In November, the bank also extended the cash advance feature to all overseas branches.

Other well-known "funnymen" who will address convention delegates are Bob Hope and Bob Newhart.

Hope will introduce the state's political leaders at the convention's Family Night Dinner at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 4. The dinner, presided over by CNPA President Jack Craemer, of the San Rafael Independent-Journal, will honor Governor Edmund G. Brown, Lt. Governor Glenn M. Anderson, Secretary of State Frank M. Major General Eugene B. LeBailly, director of information, Office of the Secretary of the Air Force, will be the speaker at the Installation Luncheon at noon Saturday, Feb. 5.

Bogert Frank, mayor of Palm Springs, will officially welcome convention delegates at the Opening Breakfast at 8 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 3. On hand also to make a special presentation to CNPA will be Jackie Cooper, 1966 state chairman of the March of Dimes.
